1/3 cup plain Greek yogurt	Pinch of salt
1/2 cup any kind of milk	1/2 cup mashed banana
1 teaspoon vanilla	1/2 cup mashed berries

Combine all the ingredients and leave in the refrigerator overnight so the oats absorb the milk and yogurt. The oatmeal is good cold or can be warmed in the microwave before serving. In the morning, stir, place into a pretty glass dish, and garnish with fresh berries.

Yummy Edible Candy Bracelets

Make mom a delicious, edible jewelry treat!

String candy onto thin licorice, kitchen twine, or waxed string and tie around Mom's wrist.

These work best:

Gummy Lifesavers

Fruit or mint Lifesavers

Gummi Rings

Cereal with a hole, like Fruit Loops or Honey Nut Cheerios

Yogurt-dipped or plain pretzels

Rainbow Twizzlers cut into short bead-sized pieces

Or cut a small hole into any soft candy

For older children, use a large yard needle and thread, yarn, or even dental floss to pierce and string soft gummy candy, jellybeans, marshmallows, mini peppermint patties, mini Starbursts, caramel corn, or dried fruit.

Mason Jar Gift Ideas

Little gifts in the perfect package.

Cake for One!

Layer cake in a mason jar for individual servings. Use the mason jar opening to cut circles of cake and alternate layers of cake with frosting, sprinkles, or chocolate chips. Screw on the lid and tie with a colorful bow.

Rose Sugar Scrub

Make a beautiful smelling shower scrub. Blend in a food processor: One cup of sugar, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of baby oil, and 12 rose petals. Store in an airtight mason jar with a bow!

Tea Break in a Jar

In a mason jar, include bags of her favorite tea, a small honey jar or honey packets, shortbread cookies, and chocolates—wrapped with baker's twine. And the jar doubles as the drinking glass!

Infused Vanilla Sugar!

Perfect for adding to coffee or elevating a recipe. Split a whole vanilla bean lengthwise and add the entire pod to one cup of sugar in a mason jar. Let infuse for one month.

Satisfy Her Sweet Tooth!

Fill a mason jar with her favorite candy—all for her! She doesn't need to share.

Fresh Flowers.

And, of course, it's the perfect container for a small bouquet!

Fun Vibes!

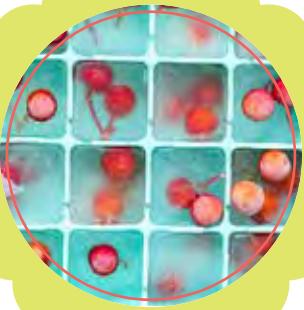

In Full Bloom!

Use edible flowers to embellish a store-bought cake or cupcakes. Pansies, snapdragons, dandelions, and lavender can make a plain cake the centerpiece. For safety, make sure you can identify the correct flowers or purchase edible flowers from the store.

Snazz it Up!

Make breakfast in bed extra special with a decorated serving tray. Purchase an inexpensive wooden tray for the littles to paint or use washi tape to create a design on a plastic tray or a baking sheet. It's a keepsake that can be used over and over.

No Boring Ice Cubes!

Blueberries, raspberries, small citrus wedges, and mint sprigs look beautiful frozen and floating in a glass of lemonade for a special touch at brunch. Cheers!

Word Search!

On mom's special day, find the words that make you think of her! Look forward, backward, and at an angle!
